C., against the guarantee of bank deposits——The address of Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, was a significant feature of the session of the International Tuberculosis Congress yesterday——After a five days' preliminary hearing Charles E. Rosin and turpentine quiet.

They began trying to discredit the new Democratic committee treasurer almost before he was appointed.

The Democrats have got the Republicans out in the open now where there are no obstructions to dodge behind.

No doubt John Sharp Williams will have a tremendous audience in Newbern on Saturday. Why can't he be secured for a speech in our city?

Many of the political leaders are now burning hot air instead of the Standard Air product. They think that safer.

That report of a plot to murder Roosevelt purporting to come all the way from Bayonne fell pretty flat. It did not have a bit of political effect.

Letters between Bryan and Roosevelt are getting to be an almost every day occurrence. Why don't they hire a hall and have it out in one spell?

Tom Watson does not care where his campaign friends come from just so it comes. With him money is money and is as good from one source as from another.

What different feelings Tom Watson would have toward Pettigrew had the latter agreed to make campaign speeches for him in the 1904 campaign.

Chauncey Depew says this is the "golden age of politics." Do the big trusts pay their lawyers who are also Congressmen and Government officials in the yellow metal?

Private Secretary Loeb says the President will not "leave" to go on the stump. What's the use since he has turned his desk in the executive office into a stump?

Can it be possible that Carrie Nation was completely squelched by that one interview with Taft? If so the Republican nominee has done the country one good service at least.

Roosevelt must have spent Sunday in writing his last letter to Bryan, as he gave out to the press at a late hour that night. What do the advocates of strict observance of the Sabbath think of that?

The state of affairs in the Republican ranks reminds one of the time of the third Cleveland campaign, when the party was so split up that the leaders of the campaign could not get their men together at the polls.

When Foraker talks about going before the people for vindication by re-election he ought to remember what happened to Conkling and "Me-too" Platt when they resigned from the Senate under fire expecting to be vindicated or whitewashed, which was all the same to them.

HEADWAY ON THE DOCKET

Murder Cases Set For Today and Tomorrow—Venire of Fifty Men Drawn For Each Day—Other Proceedings During Day.

Although no cases of very great importance were tried yesterday, most satisfactory inroads were made yesterday upon the criminal docket in the Superior Court and the decks are cleared to such an extent that it will be possible to enter upon one of the capital cases today.

The case that attracted most interest yesterday was that of young E. B. Vann, the traveling salesman, who submitted the day before to forcible trespass in lieu of going on trial on the charge of false pretense in that he collected something over $200 from the Cochran Shoe Case Co. of Charlotte, on alleged fictitious sales. Mr. H. M. Wade, of the Charlotte concern, arrived yesterday and consented to the adjustment of the case in line with the proposition of Vann's counsel, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., who said that conditioned upon his liberty, his client would make full restitution to his former employers and pay the costs of the action. This disposition of the case was made just before court took a recess for the day yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock and Vann was released from custody, Judge Lyon and Solicitor Duffy in reluctantly agreeing to this disposition of the case, stating that they hoped the experience would result in a wholesome lesson to the young defendant.

It has been agreed to take up the case of Paul James, colored, charged with criminal assault upon a colored woman on Greenville Sound, today and the case of Charles Radcliffe, colored, charged with the murder of another negro, on Thursday of this week. B. G. Empie, Esq., and Messrs. Pait & Woody appear for James in the case to go on trial today and Mr. Empie for Radcliffe tomorrow. A special venire of 50 has been summoned for each day and the jury will be selected from this number.

An additional 12 months was given to Dancy Lewis, colored, yesterday for the second offense of housebreaking recently unearthed by Captain Robert Green, the city detective. Charles Williams, colored, for larceny, was given six months.

A large number of cases were continued during the morning session, among them being Lloyd Williams and Wash Brown, colored, larceny; C. O. Knox, receiving stolen goods; Walter Buoy, violation of anti-trust law; R. T. Windley, doing business without license.

William Simpson, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Captain Davis, of Southport, on the wharf some time ago, was let off with the cost in view of his age and previous good character.

Verdicts of not guilty were returned in cases of Walter McGire and Annie Campbell, each charged with larceny. John Williams pleaded guilty to larceny and was given six months. Judgment for sci fa and capias was ordered in case of J. E. Allen. Geo. Hill, charged with embezzlement, and Fred Hill, charged with housebreaking, got off with a nol pros with leave.

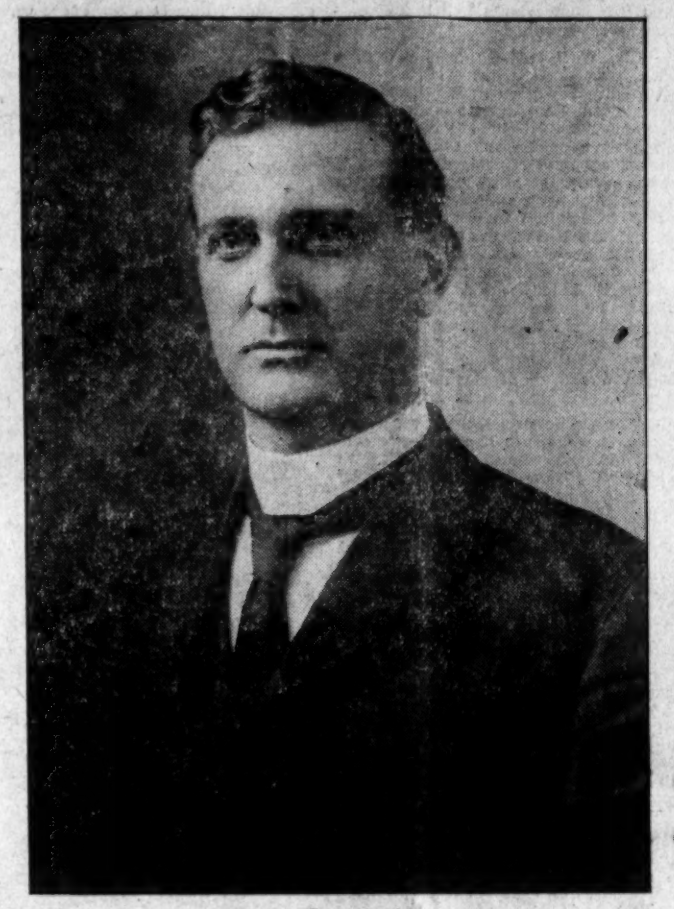
Through his counsel, W. P. Gafford, Esq., Andrew Ward submitted to non support and was let off with the costs. Preston Norris, charged with resisting an officer, was called and failed. A. C. Brown, assault with deadly weapon, had his case nol prossed with leave. Judgment of the justice of the peace was affirmed in the appeal of Lucy Moore, colored. Nol pros with leave was also entered in cases of Will Lane, charged with gambling, Robert McIntyre, charged with larceny, and Son Baldwin, gambling.

Other cases were disposed of as follows: Rufus Howe, gambling, fined $5 and costs amounting to $100. Geo. Pigford, larceny, nol pros with leave. John Revels, Norwood Everett and Walter Everett, gambling, costs. Mamie Walker, assault with deadly weapon, pleaded guilty, costs. Jacob Bornemann, sci fa, judgment absolute.

The last case tried during the day was that of Ed. Brewer, a young white man charged with throwing a pair of pliers at young Hunter Watson, in front of Honnet's jewelry store some months ago, the window in the store having been broken at the time. The defendant was represented by Brooke G. Empie, Esq., and was found not guilty and discharged.

Just before adjournment a submission was entered in two cases of an assault with a deadly weapon and three of carrying a concealed weapon against Junius Sidbury, a negro shot in the stomach by Geo. Simpson, in East Wilmington eight weeks ago, Sidbury having been in the hospital since. Simpson was also charged with an assault with a deadly weapon and carrying a concealed weapon. Herbert McClammy, Esq., appeared for the defendant Simpson, and pleaded self defense. The two had a difficulty about a "girl" who was introduced as a witness and testified that once Sidbury had shoved the barrel of a pistol in her mouth and made her chew it. The case was left open until today.

HON. WILLIAM WALTON KITCHIN.



FIVE THOUSAND HEAR KITCHIN IN ROBESON

Distinguished Honors Paid to Democratic Nominee For Governor in Lumberton Yesterday—Horseback Parade, Martial Music, Flags and Bunting In Evidence Along The Way.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 29—Hon. W. W. Kitchin addressed an audience here today variously estimated at from four to five thousand. The day was ideal, clear and cool.

Before 7 o'clock this morning people began arriving from all sections of the county, as well as many from adjoining counties. The Seaboard brought large crowds from both ways while the other roads ran specials from Marietta and St. Paul's, these trains being loaded to capacity.

At 10:30 o'clock Mr. Kitchin escorted by a brass band and a large number of mounted horses was driven in a carriage through the principal streets. In the carriage with him was Hon. Stephen McIntyre and Mr. R. D. Caldwell. Arriving at the speaker's stand a little after 11 o'clock after a few selections by the band, Rev. E. M. Hoyle invoked the blessings of the deity, and Mr. McIntyre introduced the speaker in his usual eloquent style.

For two hours Mr. Kitchin held the attention of his listeners discussing in a masterly style State and National issues. Everybody seemed delighted with him and his speech. The committee having in charge the arrangements for the day are to be congratulated upon the success of the occasion. Lumberton surpassed herself in decorating, never before presenting such an attractive appearance.

All the banks and many business houses were closed during the speaking, the cotton mills also closed for the day in order that the operatives might enjoy the day. It has been a great day for Democracy in Robeson and in November she can be counted on for the usual majority.

Hon. W. W. Kitchin will arrive in Wilmington from Lumberton on the noon Seaboard Air Line train today and tonight will speak to the Democracy of New Hanover from a stand erected at Third and Market streets, where it is to be hoped that a very large crowd of both ladies and gentlemen will hear him. Mr. Kitchin will be met at the station by County Chairman John J. Furlong, President Cameron F. MacRae, of the Bryan and Kitchin Club and other prominent party leaders here. While in the city Mr. Kitchin will be entertained at The Orton. For the speaking tonight Mr. Kitchin will be introduced by Herbert McClammy, Esq., one of the original Kitchen men in the county and a strong supporter of the Person man at the Charlotte convention. The Delgado band will furnish the music and many burning tar barrels will give a spectacular setting to the great rally.

From Wilmington Mr. Kitchin goes to Southport, speaking there tomorrow night and returning to the city on a specially chartered boat in time to catch the early morning train to Whiteville where he will address the voters Friday at 1 o'clock. Saturday the week will be concluded at Fayetteville.

SALVATION ARMY SERVICE

Special Series Under Auspices of Visiting Workers Begins.

Beginning last evening the Salvation Army commenced a special series of services which will continue for the next two nights, conducted by Major Elizabeth Barter, assisted by Adjutant Harriet Core and Adjutant William F. Quirk. The outdoor services which was held last evening at the corner of Princess and Front streets was attended by an unusually large crowd and a good sized congregation attended the services in the hall. Much interest was manifested and good accomplished, nine requests having been made for prayer.

These army workers are only here for three nights and Adjutant and Mrs. Yates, who are in charge of the local post, are anxious for the public to attend these interesting services. The outdoor service will be held at 7:30 o'clock, and the second service at the hall at 8 o'clock.

Many Vagrants In Court.

The police are very active in apprehending the loafing class and at the session of the Mayor's court yesterday there were few defendants with the exception of those for vagrancy. Betsy Mills, colored, went to the county farm and James Wilson, white, was sent to the roads, each for 30 days, on this charge, while George Smith agreed to leave the city and judgment was suspended. Charles Goodwin, colored, for fast driving was fined $5 and the cost.

PLANS FOR ELKSFEST

Enthusiastic Meeting of All Committees Held at the Temple Last Night.

SOME OF THE ATTRACTIONS

Pleasure Resorts of Several States to be Invaded For Good Shows. General Outlook For The Week in November.

The various committees from Wilmington Lodge No. 532, B. P. O. E. met last night with Director General L. W. Buckley and Exalted Ruler J. F. Leitner and went over very carefully the plans for the giant Elkfest which it is proposed to give here the week of November 2nd. All reports were encouraging and the arrangements are now going forward with an earnest of a great success of the festival.

The plans of the management embrace not only the production of big special features, such as Elks' society circus, burlesque initiation ceremony, free automobile races, etc., as outlined in the Star of yesterday, but also the bringing to Wilmington of some special shows, not of a carnival nature, however, but of the finest class ever seen in this section. These are shows and entertainments that have been given in the large parks, such as Luna Park, Dreamland Park, Coney Island, at Revere Park, Boston, Electric Park, Baltimore, River View Park, Chicago, and at the various World's Fairs at Buffalo, St. Louis, Jamestown, etc. While not all of the shows applied for will be booked, yet indications now point to splendid attractions in this line.

Among the most wonderful and original, as well as educational, will be Dr. Braun's Flea Circus.

Alexander Coonea, whose brother Dr. Thos. C. Cooneu, is president of the American Quabata Company, will arrive in Wilmington the latter part of this week to consult with Manager Buckley as to the advisability of placing here during the Elksfest one of their traveling Baby Incubator Creches. This will contain from two to four infant incubator nurses for the same, and lectures to explain the plan of operation. The tiny mites that will occupy this incubator, will be brought from the Dreamland Coney Island Institution. As this is the time of the year when Captain Felder and Lieutenant Schienwind usually take their Iggorote Village from the Philippines south to Jacksonville or Havana for Winter quarters, Mr. Buckley has strong hopes of being able to prevail upon them to bring the village of 125 people to Wilmington the week of November 2nd.

Correspondence has been opened with Roltaire, the famous Illusion man for a set of smaller illusions from Coney Island to be formed into one show. Mr. Roltaire put on the "Flying Automobile Lady" at the Jacksonville, Fla. Midwinter Exposition, last Winter, and through personal friendship for Mr. Buckley, will make a strong effort to send a show here. His world famous "Darkness & Dawn" at the National Exposition, "House Up-side-Down" at Buffalo, "Creation" at St. Louis, "Pharaoh's Daughter," and scores of similar beautiful and costly illusions, have made the name of Roltaire known to millions of people in America. He has also received the concession for "Creation" at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle for next year. Should Mr. Roltaire decide to send a show to Wilmington at the Elksfest, it will be long remembered as a dainty exhibition.

It is probable that Geo. W. Rollins' trained animal show will be here; also King Pharaoh, the educated horse.

C. H. McNair of Buffalo, the originator of the Johnstown Flood Show, has agreed to send one of those traveling exhibitions of that notable catastrophe to Wilmington.

Efforts will be made to bring Smith's Esquimaux village, a first-class "Old Plantation Show," Ingram Bros. "Ostrich Farm" from Jacksonville, Fla.; Captain Sorcho's Deep Sea Divers, the Libby Glass Works Exhibition, a Moving Talking Picture Show, and several other noted features. Of course the usual Ferris Wheel and Merry-go-round will be in evidence.

It is proposed to make a Festplace where the big Circus Tent will be pitched, and the various side-shows arranged—a beautiful spot through the medium of electric lighted and handsome decorated arches and festoons of electric lights and considerable scenic work. All parades will end at the Festplace; all free acts will be given there, and the thousands of visitors to Wilmington at that time will be registered and entertained in a Marque tent placed for the accommodation of out of-town guests and in charge of a Committee of entertainment.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 29.—By splitting a double-header with Philadelphia today while Chicago and Pittsburg were winning, New York relinquished first place and Chicago now leads by a single point with Pittsburg a close third.

In the first game the locals had Mathewson in the box and as they batted McQuillen to good effect McGraw's men won handily 6 to 2. Bresnahan and Dooin collided at the plate in the fifth inning and both had to retire, Bresnahan suffering from a sprained ankle and Dooin being painfully but not seriously spiked.

In the second game Dooin was back behind the bat but Bresnahan had to give up in the opening inning. Donlin who injured his left yesterday was unable to play today and the absence of these two crippled the home team badly.

The visitors found Crandall very easy in the sixth inning and added five runs to their score before the side was retired. The Scores:

Philadelphia .. .000 000 101—2 8 3
New York .. ..200 020 02x—6 7 1

McQuillen and Dooin and Jacklitch; Mathewson and Bresnahan and Needham. Time 1:45. Umpires Johnson and Klem.

Second Game:—

New York .....000 000 000—0 6 3

Covaleski and Dooin; Crandall, Taylor and Bresnahan and Needham. Time 1:55.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 29.—Boston won the second game of the series from Brooklyn today 5 to 2. Lindaman was hit hard but was effective with men on bases. The batting of the locals was timely and the base runners were aided by Farmers' poor throwing to second. The Score:

Boston .. ..200 000 12x—5 8 0
Brooklyn .. ....000 100 100—2 9 3

Lindaman and Braham; Bell and Farmer. Time 1:43. Umpire Emslie.

Cincinnati, Sept. 29.—Cincinnati today failed to bunch hits off Brown while Chicago coupled hits with Ewing's passes. Tinker's home run following a base on balls, gave Chicago a good start towards winning the game 6 to 2. The Score:

Cincinnati .. ...000 000 200—2 9 2
Chicago .. ..020 300 100—6 8 1

Ewing, Savidge and Schlei; Brown and Kling. Time 1:40. Umpires Owens and Rigler.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 29.—Pittsburg won both games of a double-header with St. Louis here today by scores of 7 to 0 and 6 to 5.

The visitors had little chance to score in the first game, Camnitz allowing but one hit, that in the ninth inning with one out. The home team bunched their hits with the errors of St. Louis.

The second game was one of the most exciting seen here this season. Neither side scored until the seventh when Pittsburg made three runs on three hits and an error. St. Louis came back in the eighth with four runs made on two hits and a base on balls coupled with two errors. Pittsburg made two runs in the eighth and St. Louis tied the score in their half of the ninth, but the locals got another run in the last half of the ninth. The Scores:

Pittsburg .. ....400 001 020—7 10 0

ROOSEVELT AND HEARST.

It is strange how change in political situations bring about change of politicians' opinions of each other. A remarkable example of this is in past and present attitude of Roosevelt toward Hearst. The Hearst on whom the President relies for alleged data in the composition of his letters of attack on Bryan and other Democrats and whose statements he takes without question is the same Hearst whom Roosevelt, through his spokesman, Secretary of State Root, so vehemently denounced two years ago when Hearst was the Democratic candidate for Governor of New York—and was the only candidate on the ticket who was defeated. At that time Roosevelt sent Root to Utica to make a speech for the purpose of declaring the President's opinion of Hearst. The Secretary in that speech declared that he spoke for the President, saying "I say to you with his (Roosevelt's) authority that he regards Hearst as wholly unfit to be Governor, as an insincere, self-seeking demagogue, who is trying to deceive the working men of New York by false statements and false promises"

"False statements" for the purpose of deceiving was what Roosevelt said of Hearst in 1906. In 1908 he takes as Gospel truth any statements the latter makes in defamation of his political opponents—statements which if true Roosevelt knows are based on information which could have been secured in no other than a criminal or dishonest and dishonorable way.

If Hearst was in 1904 what the President then said he was, does the President think he has changed in character in the two years to such extent that his every statement is to be relied on? or does Roosevelt still hold to his former opinion of him? If the latter, which the President has given no reason to doubt, then he shows himself to be a man willing to use the statements of one on whose word he does not rely to blacken the character of any person who stands in the way of his political ambitions or who attempts to thwart his political purposes.

AID THE CAUSE OF DEMOCRACY.

The soliciting of funds for the Democratic national convention by the newspapers has become quite general all over the country. Some of the papers have been very successful. The fund sent in to the News and Observer has passed the $2,000 mark. The longest sum raised by any paper, so far as we have seen stated is $10,459, raised by the New Orleans States up to the 26th instant. Other papers have raised several thousand each. We wish the Star's list could have been made larger, and we still hope that some more contributions will come in this week. No matter how small they will be thankfully received. We remember the fact that our people have been called upon to aid home people made to suffer great loss by the floods, and that they responded more liberally. Because of this many feel that they cannot afford to contribute to the campaign fund; but there are a good many people in our city and section of country who could each give a small sum—a dollar or fifty cents. We hope some of these will let us hear from them in the next few days.

TAR HEEL SPEAKERS IN DEMAND.

That is quite an honor the Democratic campaign managers have conferred on Hon. C. C. Daniels, Solicitor of the Fourth Judicial district, in choosing him as a speaker to be sent to the States of Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and New York. The whole State should take pride in this draft that has been made on her for aid in the campaign in those distant States. Mr. Daniels will render good acount of himself and will bring additional reputation to his State as the home of orators. North Carolina orators will be heard on the stump in all sections of the country before the campaign is over. They are in demand and are ever ready to do their duty to the party with their talents, in arousing Democratic enthusiasm and helping to increase party strength in the doubtful States.

When in his letter to Bryan given out last Sunday night Roosevelt says that he believes the former's success would be a calamity to the country both from the stand point of business and from the standpoint of morals, what does he mean by the letter phrase? Is it an insinuation against Bryan's private, or even public, morals? It cannot be that he would stoop to the making of such a charge against the man whose moral character is so far above reproach; but Roosevelt's past conduct in several instances shows that when exasperated by opposition to his will he will stoop to almost any means to put that opposition out of his way.

Woman's Home Companion for October is before us. The article by Edward Everett Hale on "The Books at Home" alone is worth the price of the number and should be read by all heads of families. The regular departments of Art, Verse and Music of Household and Fashions, and For Young Readers are up to their usual style of pleasant and instructive reading. There are entertaining short stories and special articles by writers of prominence. This magazine is published at Springfield, Ohio, at one dollar a year or ten cents a copy.

McCall's Magazine, "the Queen of Fashion," for October, which is before us, well deserves the title. While being a magazine of fashions it contains other reading matter. It is published by the McCall's Company No. 236 West 37th street, New York city at fifty cents a year or five cents a copy.

Wonder if the truth will ever be learned about that Cleveland letter, whether it was an out and out fabrication or a forgery by way of alterations in the original copy after Cleveland's death? The fact that Brandenburg was connected with the matter is enough to give it a fishy smell. Waat evidence there is of it being a forgery should be given to the public.

We are looking daily for the announcement from the White House of Mr. Roosevelt's programme of stump speeches. If Bryan keeps after him he will exhibit to the nation the remarkable spectacle of the President touring the country in favor of the man he has forced upon his party as candidate for the Presidency.

Did you ever see politics in such a muddle? No matter what the end will be, if the present style of conducting the campaign is kept up until election day there will be a goodly number of political corpses strewn along the route of march of both political armies.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—"The first stroke is half the battle, and it looks as if Bryan had scored to date," says the Wall Street Summary in a bitter arraignment of the Republican managers under the heading "Republican Bungling." Coming from a source friendly to the enemy, the Summary's wail sounds cheerful and encouraging, to say the least.—Macon Telegraph.

—Since it has become the fad to pillory every public man who had anything to do with Standard Oil it would be interesting to know what we are going to do with the arch fiend itself. Are we to understand that the company first found the men whose honest opinions suited its purposes and afterward giving them its support, or did it first find the man whose opinions it could command by supporting him afterward? Mr. Archbold says the former; which view of it will the public take?—Chattanooga Times.

—Whatsoever Governor Charles N. Haskell may be in person and character—and while he has been subjected to much violent vituperation and abuse by President Roosevelt, we have yet to see an iota of competent evidence beyond the President's unsupported opinion, of any corruption of which he is guilty—his conduct in quietly stepping aside and severing his connection with the National Democratic Committee at this time, while stoutly maintaining his innocency, is both manly and dignified.—Macon Telegraph.

—Mr. William J. Bryan has been a long time before the public. His whole life has been under the closest scrutiny, and we cannot conceive that any one regards him other than as a perfectly honest man. If it were not for the asperity of party no one would ever accuse him of contracting or maintaining an unworthy personal or party association. Concerning the man Haskell the case against him has not been fully established. He may or may not be guilty. At all events it is to be said in justice to him that he has resigned. As to Mr. Bryan we do not believe for a moment, nor believe that any other fair-minded person believes, that he ever had a doubt about Haskell's perfect integrity.—Charlotte Observer.

—The public excitement over these campaign incidents has been tremendous. The resources of the English vocabultary have been marshaled by the President, Mr. Bryan, Gov. Haskell and their allies and opponents respectively, in denunciation and attempted exculpation. When Hearst began giving out letters the campaign ceased to be dull. Outside of the madhouses there are those who think that the people who carry on a political campaign in this fashion make a singular spectacle of themselves. There are those who wonder how these controversies over Treasurers and Chairmen of speaking committees help the people to a clear understanding of the respective rights of Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan.—New York Times.

—There are thousands of patriotic and open-minded men in the country that never voted other than a Republican ticket who regard the method of Mr. Taft's nomination as one of the most vital and important questions before the country, because it is a question which involves the existence of a Republican form of government on the American continent. It is evident to all thinking Americans that the methods employed to secure the nomination for Mr. Taft were glaringly dictatorial and revolutionary and if permitted to go unrebuked spell clearly the establishment of a Federal dynasty at Washington. The truth is there is nothing in the history of the country that is comparable to it for contempt of constitutional government, and the rights of the people to choose their own candidates. —New Orleans States.

TWO VERSIONS.

Story of the Climb as Told by the Tourist and the Guide.

"He was touring the Bernese Oberland. At the Bear hotel in Grindewald a mountaineer sat in the hall, a glass of beer before him and his feet, in their hobnailed mountain boots, extended toward the fire. The mountaineer had just made an ascent of the Tiger, and he talked like this about it:

"'Well, well, well, a climb indeed—four hours of incessant step cutting with an ax on an ice slope as smooth as glass and as steep as a wall. Look at this bunch of edelweiss. I spied it on the edge of a dreadful precipice. My guide refused to let me pluck it; said it was madness. For his part, he would not risk his life so foolishly. But at last, what with eloquence and an offer of 200 francs, I persuaded him to come along. The advance was awful. One misstep meant death. But I secured the flower, when suddenly the guide's foot slipped, he fell and began to roll toward the edge. But I thrust my ax firmly into the ice and, bracing myself, seized the rope that bound us together, and—the man was saved.'

"And at the same time in the hotel kitchen the guide was giving another version of the ascent in words like these:

"'Well, well, what a customer! Another like that chap and I give up the business. From the start he was faint and dizzy. In fact, wherever any real climbing began we had to carry him like a sack of meal. And mean! Refused us a single penny extra for all our extra trouble. Last of all, he begged for the sprig of eidelweiss I wore in my hat, and I was fool enough to let him have it.'"—New York Times.

FISHES' FACES.

The Fascination They Have For One Lover of Nature.

Did you ever stop to examine the expression on the face of a fish? I do not mean of some notoriously grotesque fish, but of just any plain seafaring fish. I confess that the fascination for me is the same whether I stand in front of some great collection of little monstrosities like that in the Naples aquarium or whether I sit by my dining room window and contemplate the goldfish in my little boy's glass bowl. People watch the monkeys at the zoo and remark how human they are, how sly and crafty the old ones, how cute and playful the young ones. But for steady company give me the fish. How restful they are with their mouthings, as regular as if they were governed by a balance wheel. How quiet, too, for not one word of murmured protest or of chattering fault finding do they inflict upon us! How philosophical as they bask in the sun the livelong day or seek the occasional shade of the modest sprig of greens which forms the conventional garnishing of their watery abode! How easily gratified are their simple tastes! Surely with their good manners, their quiet deportment and their stoical bearing goldfish are the ideal companions of the mature man. Monkeys and dogs and kittens may amuse the children by their tricks and antics, but only the grown man can appreciate the solid qualities of the fish's character as written upon his features.—Atlantic Monthly.

Hairs In the Watch.

"Well, sir, I had to send my watch downtown to have it cleaned out again," said an east side barber the other day. "I have to send my watch to the repair shop about once a month, and there is absolutely nothing the matter with it, except that it is full of hairs. I do not understand how the hairs can get into the works and behind the hands and mix up in the mainspring and every place as they do in my timepiece. I watched myself one month as closely as I could, and I swear I never opened the back of it. Yet at the end of the month I unscrewed the back lid, and it was full of little fine hairs. I always keep it in my pocket when I am cutting hair, but I don't see how any hairs get into the watch. Yet they must, because they are always there." — Columbus Dispatch.

A New Definition.

The class was studying grammar. "Now," said the teacher, "can any one give me a word ending with 'ous,' meaning full of, as in 'dangerous,' full of danger, and 'hazardous,' full of hazard?"

There was silence in the class for a moment. Then a boy sitting in the front row put out his hand.

"Well, John," said the teacher, "what is your word?"

"Please, sir," came the reply, "'pious,' full of pie."

Vigorous Youngsters.

Lady—I am looking for a governess for my children.

Manager of Intelligence Office—Didn't we supply you with one last week?

"Yes."

"Well, madam, according to her report you don't need a governess; you need a lion tamer."

MONSTER PARASITE

Seen Alive by Thousands—An Unusual Sight.

The expression oftimes heard, "That man must have a tape worm; he can eat more than any person I ever saw," does not really apply to the man or woman who has one of these parasites, as shown by the statement made by Mr. Carl Schutman, the well known baker of Greensboro, after passing one of these monsters that measured fully 70 feet and was seen alive by an audience of fully four thousand. Mr. Schutman said: "I heard Mr. Andes talk for more than a week and on two occasion he described my troubles better than I could tell it myself. I finally made up my mind I would give his medicine a trial. I purchased one bottle and after using it three days found the cause of my troubles was this tape worm. When it was removed I was the most surprised person in the city. I had suffered so much from my stomach, such as sour risings after meals; fullness and shortness of breath the least exertion would cause my heart to beat fast; oftimes would have no appetite for several days, and when I would eat the least bit I would become sick at stomach and spit up my food. Heartburn and sharp, shooting pains about my heart, caused a great deal of uneasiness; headache and tired feeling were almost a daily companion, but am glad to say that the dollar bottle of medicine I purchased from Mr. Andes was the best investment I ever made. I would not have that monster back in me for all the diamonds and gold buttons that the Great Advertiser owns."

This statement, coming from such a good and substantial citizen, sold many a bottle of Mr. Andes Medicine in Greensboro, and when this tape worm was shown last night to the large audience, quite a number present raised their hands when Mr. Andes asked if there was anyone present who saw this parasite in Greensboro to hold up their hands, at least a dozen did so; and two or three persons were present when it was still alive.

Such remarkable cures as this is the reason given for the phenomenal sales of the Andes Great Medicines, and at Bellamy's drug store every day the steady stream of purchasers reminds one of a bargain day at a big department store.

WOMEN WERE SCARCE.

A Feminine Face Caused a Furore In California's Early Days.

There were few women in the California mining camps in the old days, and the advent of an emigrant wagon with a woman in it caused a furore, as is proved by the following incident from the reminiscences of former Senator William M. Stewart: "Women were so scarce in California at that time that this was sufficient to arouse the whole camp. The 'boys,' as we were called, were scattered along the coyote diggings for a distance of about four miles, and when anything unusual happened the words, 'Oh, Joe!' would be passed along the whole line. When I saw the feminine raiment I raised the usual alarm, 'Oh, Joe!' and this called the attention of the miners on Buckeye hills, where I was, to the clothesline which had attracted my notice. They gathered around on the hill, nearly surrounding the covered wagon and its contents. The rush of the boys in the immediate vicinity to see the wonderful sight attracted those farther away, and in less than ten minutes two or three thousand young men were anxiously watching the wagon, clothesline and fascinating lingerie. In alarm the man that belonged to the woman inside stuck his head out of a small tent beside the wagon. I assured him that no harm was intended, but that we were very anxious to see the lady who was the owner of the clothes. This aroused her curiosity sufficiently to induce her to pull the curtain of the tent aside so that her face could be discovered, but not fully seen.

"I then proposed that we make a donation to the first lady that had honored our camp with a visit. I took from my camp a buckskin bag, used for the purpose of carrying gold, and invited the boys to contribute. They came forward with great eagerness and poured out of their sacks gold dust amounting to between $2,000 and $3,000. I then proposed to appoint a committee to wait on the lady and present it. The motion was unanimously carried, and one of the gentlemen appointed on the committee suggested myself as chairman. I took the sack of gold and went within about thirty feet of the tent and made as good a speech as I could to induce the lady to come out, assuring her that all the men about her were gentlemen, that they had seen no ladies for so many months and that the presence of one reminded them of their mothers and sweethearts at home. I told her that the bag of gold was hers on condition that she would come out and claim it. Her husband urged her to be brave, but when she finally ventured out about halfway the cheers were so vociferous that she was scared and ran back.

"She repeated this performance several times, and I kept moving slowly back far enough to get her away from the little tent so the boys could have a good view of her. I suppose half an hour was occupied with her running back and forth while the boys looked on in admiration, when I finally gave her the bag, with all the good wishes of the camp. She grabbed it and ran into the tent like a rabbit. The next morning the wagon, oxen, man and owner of the inspiring apparel were gone, and we never heard of them in after life."

Where the Funds Went.

As an instance of the happy go lucky character of the early darky the following extract from the Albany (N. Y.) city records may prove interesting:

"In 1826 the trustees of the African Baptist church applied to the common council for permission to circulate a public subscription paper in aid of the funds of the church. It was moved to lay the petition on the table, pending investigation, for the reason that th principal part of the funds secured by a previous subscription for the African church had been used by the trustees in 'treating themselves to hot suppers.'"

Presidential Succession.

During the first session of the Forty-ninth congress (1885-7) the presidential succession was fixed as follows: In case of the death or removal of both president and vice president the secretary of state shall act as president until the disability of the president be removed or a president is elected. If there be no secretary of state, the secretary of the treasury shall act as president. And the succession passes in like manner to the secretary of war, the attorney general, the secretary of the navy and the secretary of the interior, in the order here given.

Cultivate Your Power.

Do not pray for easy lives. Pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks. Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle. But you shall be a miracle. Every day you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of life which has come in you by the grace of God.—Phillips Brocks.

A CHAT ON HATS.

By the C. W. Polvogt Company.

From a sartorial standpoint the present season is surely a sensational one. Changes have been radical and extremes have met more than once but in nothing so pronouncedly as in the matter of millinery. From the inverted bowl we call the hat, to the pill box turban.

The success of the satin hat as well as the hat of silk in its various weaves seems to be assured from the start.

Taupe, vapor and elephant greys appear to have preference in color, and yet it cannot be termed a one-color season. The audacity of the creator in the art of millinery is, to say the least at times rather overwhelming. Little by little the hats are growing in the back until the quaint poke bonnet of our grandmother days will be of first importance. All the latest Parisian styles and creations from the work rooms of the C. W. Polvogt Company will be shown at their opening next Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6th and 7th. There are three Northern experienced trimmers, who have won a reputation which gives them a large patronage. The Millinery Department will be decorated with Fall leaves, foliage and fruit. No one will make a mistake if they wait for the opening of the Polvogt Company. **

PRICES OF TIMBER.

Mills Give Notice of Increase That Will be Effective Oct. 15th.

Mr. H. McL. Green, who is engaged in the timber and lumber business here, tells a reporter that the mill men at Wilmington have agreed that on and after the 15th of October, they will pay $7 and $5 per thousand for pine logs. This means $7 for all logs, 11 inches in diametor and up, 16 feet long, and $5 per thousand for those not free of knots. For several months logs of this kind have been bringing $6 and $4 per thousand, so that the log getters and land owners generally will note the increase with pleasure. The increase is taken to mean that there is an improvement of market conditions and that ere long all the mills will be running again at least on part time.

HON. HANNIBAL L. GODWIN.

Democratic Nominee for Congress in This District, Who Last Night Announced That he Would Accept With Pleasure the Challenge of Republican Nominee Slocomb for a Joint Canvass of This District.

Returning to the city last night from Southport where he addressed a large gathering of the voters of Brunswick county ,Hon. H. L. Godwin, Democratic nominee for Congress in this district, was shown a letter purporting to be from his Republican opponent, Col. A. H. Slocomb, of Cumberland, published in yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer and challenging Mr. Godwin to a joint canvass of the district on the political issues of the day.

"You may say that I will accept with pleasure," promptly acknowledged Mr. Godwin. "I had intended to remain in the city tomorrow and attend to some private business and hear Mr. Kitchin speak tomorrow night, but this letter rather changes my plans and I will hurry home to get the formal notice from Mr. Slocomb and will at once arrange with him the preliminaries of the canvass. I welcome the opportunity of meeting my Republican opponent on the stump."

The fact is that the challenge rather anticipated a move made at Southport Monday night when Hon. Geo. H. Bellamy, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Executive Committee, who presided at the meeting, announced after Mr. Godwin's speech that he would at once issue a challenge through the Republican chairman for a joint canvass of the candidates of the respective parties. Chairman Bellamy intimates that word of this may have reached Fayetteville and prompted the challenge from the other side. The letter of Col. Slocomb published in yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer is as follows:

"Hon. Hannibal L. Godwin, Dunn, N. C.

"My Dear Sir:—I have accepted the nomination as candidate for Congress of the National Republican party of the Sixth District. I propose to make several speeches between now and the day of election, but have as yet made no apointments. I would be glad to have a joint discussion with you on the political issues of the day at such time and place as may suit our mutual convenience.

"If this proposition is agreeable to you, kindly advise me and we will arrange the necessary preliminaries. I am endeavoring to adjust my business affairs, so that I can take the field not later than Oct. 10th.

"Sincerely your friend,
"A. H. SLOCOMB."

The funeral will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning from the residence and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

The Theatre

Any play that teaches a great moral lesson is bound to do good to a community. Some of the greatest sermons ever preached against evil deeds and association are embodied in the plays of the stage. The lesson of life is presented to the listener in a thought. While the spectator is listening to the text of the play, his visual sense is being attracted by seeing the scenes enacted before his eyes, that are being described in the words to which he is listening.

In such a play as "Human Hearts," which will be shown the contrast between virtue and vice is sharply drawn The author has not minced matters in drawing his characters, and as the incidents of the play are based on real occurrences, he has not had to draw upon his imagination to invent a motive for "Human Hearts."

SHELLING THE WOODS

Democratic and Republican Campaign Headquarters Verq Active Now.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—The campaign in North Carolina is waxing more strenuous with each passing day now and the policy of both the Democratic and Republican managers will be to keep up the lick with increasing momentum until the polls close on election day in November.

Vice Presidential Candidate John W. Kern will be the first out-of-the-State campaigner of National prominence to take a hand in the North Carolina fight. He comes to Asheville October 5th, Greensboro and Guilford Battleground October 6th and the Forsyth Fair, Winston-Salem, October 7th, passing from there into the Virginia campaign. Governor Glenn will head his North Carolina escort and go then into Maryland, and other Northern States for ten days campaigning.

The Democratic campaign managers have arranged for Hon. Champ Clark to deliver three campaign speeches in North Carolina October 22nd, 23rd and 24th, the places for these not being yet agreed upon. Hon. John Sharp Williams is to be at Newbern October 3rd and a number of other places and dates are to be announced for him later through Chairman Eller. Representative H. B. Clayton, of Alabama, a campaigner of National note, is booked for North Carolina service a little later in the campaign. All the North Carolina candidates and Democrats of ability as campaigners are also in the field under the direction of Democratic headquarters "shelling the woods" in every section of the State.

The Republican campaign management is equally alert and no campaign since the sensational "red shirt" contest of 1898 has been marked by such determined activity by both parties. Hon. J. Elwood Cox, Republican nominee for Governor; ex-Congressman Thomas Settle, Hon. A. A. Whitener, and Hon. Zeb Vance Walser are among the most prominent State Republican campaigners and Chairman Adams is arranging for a number of Republican campaigners of National reputation to come into the State, there being also a strong probability that William H. Taft will make at least one speech in North Carolina. The Republicans claim that if only forty per cent., of the conservative Democrats in this State who are dissatisfied with Democratic State administration policies, can be induced to vote the Republican ticket, the Republicans will win.

Now Is the Time to Advertise in The Star.

BRYAN IN STATE OF IOWA

He Speaks to Large Crowd in Boone. An Interruption Turned to Good Account—Shows Up Taft's Repudiation of Planks.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Boone, Iowa, Sept. 29.—An echo of the Haskell charges was heard here today when William J. Bryan addressed a big crowd at the station. He had been hammering away at Mr. Taft and the Republican platform, and when he touched upon his charge that President Roosevelt had not put a trust magnate in the penitentiary a man shouted to him: "Where does Haskell come in?" Taking notice of the remark Mr. Bryan angrily replied: "Well, sir, you have enough in your own party. Why don't you attend to your own linen?" The crowd shouted and the man was silenced.

Mr. Bryan stated to his audience that he had been getting good reports from Iowa. "I have heard from a number of sections of the State," he said, "that the trend is toward the Democratic party. I think it ought to be. Our platform is such as to justify that for it plainly States what ought to be done. The Republican platform does not present any definite remedial measure. I may state a large majority of the Republicans of Iowa really agree with the Democratic policies rather than with those supported by the Republican leaders."

He inquired if his hearers thought a majority of the Republicans endorsed the action of the Republican convention in voting down the publicity plank. "You don't dare say you do," he said, "because if you agree with the convention you differ from Mr. Taft who himself has repudiated the action of the convention on that subject." Neither would they dare, he said, to endorse the repection by the Republican convention of the plank on election of Senators by direct vote because even Mr. Taft had repudiated that action and said that personally he was inclined to favor that proposition.

SPEAKING AT SOUTHPORT.

Hon. H. L. Godwin and Hon. H. L. Cook Heard by Large Gatherings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., September 29.—At 7:30 o'clock last night in the Court House here before a crowded house of perhaps 500, Congressman Godwin delivered one of his usual, characteristically strong speeches, not intermingled with eloquence or flowery sentences but a speech powerful in its simple exposition of facts and in its arraignment of the Republican party, its leaders, policies and platforms, a speech in which his arguments were delivered straight from the shoulder.

Mr. Godwin was introduced by Senator Geo. H. Bellamy, chairman of the District Executive Committee, in that gentleman's usual appropriate and happy manner.

Mr. Godwin at the formal request of a number of his audience, first outlined just what had been done for this section in congress, the different measures he now has in mind for the improvement of the farming industry of the district especially, and contemplated measures which he hopes to carry through at the next session. This was most interesting to the large audience present. Mr. Godwin then offered some strong arguments, some of which were backed up by personal experience while in Congress and others by official statistics. It is generally conceded that Mr. Godwin's speech will accomplish great good for the party in Brunswick.

At noon yesterday Hon. H. L. Cook, candidate for Presidential elector, also made a stirring political speech appealing in no uncertain terms for the Democratic party and its victory in November. Mr. Cook was introduced by County Chairman Howard C. Curtis and his speech was listened to with closest attention.

After the speech of Mr. Godwin last night, Chairman Geo. H. Bellamy, of the Congressional Executive Committee, announced that he would at once issue a challenge through the Republican Chairman for a joint canvass of the district between Mr. Godwin, the Democratic nominee, and Mr. Slocomb, of Fayetteville, the Republican nominee.

COLE BROTHERS CIRCUS.

Preliminary Arrangements For Appearances Here Completed.

Advertising Car No. 3 of Cole Brothers' World Toured Shows, left town yesterday after completing the advance work announcing the arrival of the show on Monday, October 5th. Sunday will be spent here, the three trains of cars, which transport the show property arriving in the local yards early in the morning. Only the absolutely necessary work will be attempted and the remainder of the day will be given up to sight-seers, and will afford a day of rest for the performers and employes.

On Monday morning a street parade through the principal streets of Wilmington will be the feature, while directly after the performance a series of free exhibitions will be offered at the show grounds. M'lle D'Zizzi will "span death's arch" on her bicycle and the other acts will make up a free programme that will be hard to duplicate. These attractions will again be offered at 6:30 in the evening. The doors to the two performances will open at one and 7 o'clock. "The Clowns' Congress" will serve to amuse spectators who arrive early, the performances proper opening at 2 and 8 o'clock.

Cole Brothers' menagerie has been enlarged this season, the performances containing twenty different "th llers" and the organization is conceded to be the largest independent organization on the road this year.

BRYAN AND ROOSEVELT

They Keep Up the Cross-Fire of Letters of Crimination and Recrimination—Bryan Answers the President's Letter.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Rock, Island, Ill., Sept. 29.—"I have lived in vain if your accusations have lost me a single friend," said William J. Bryan in a letter addressed today to President Roosevelt, replying to that of the President written Sunday last.

Mr. Bryan points to his record and declares that it is sufficient answer to the insinuations of the Chief Executive that he is in sympathy with or controlled by the trusts.

Reverting to the charges against Governor Haskell, Mr. Bryan says that the President, in response to his request, did not deign to suggest a tribunal which could determine those charges, but, instead, proceeded to pass judgment upon him, and he informs the President that the occupant of that high office cannot deny to the humblest citizen the right to protect his reputation and vindicate his name in the courts.

Taking up the President's assertion that certain trust magnates, fearing prosecution by Mr. Taft, will support the Democratic candidate, Mr. Bryan charges that the President worded his statement in such a way as to demand the support of all the trust magnates "and yet put it on the ground that they are supporting your party for patriotic reasons, rather than for the promotion of a selfish interest."

Such an argument he contends, is ingenius, but not sound. In proof of the fact that he would not be controlled by the trusts, Mr. Bryan says that if elected, he will enforce the anti-trust laws, "not spasmodically and intermittently, but persistently and consistently."

Mr. Bryan in dealing with the Democratic campaign fund of 1896, as compared with the Republican campaign fund of 1904 charges that the President pays more attention to the mote than to the beam and asserts that in 1904 the Republicans used in one State alone a fund almost as large as the entire sum the Democratic party had in its control.

DR. PICKARD'S SERMON.

Forceful Divine Began Revival at First Baptist Yesterday.

A large congregation gathered at the First Baptist Church at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to her the first sermon of Dr. W. L. Pickard, in the revival meeting now being held at that house of worship. Quiet but real enthusiasm prevailed in the hearts of the people at the close of the sermon, which was one of great power, and many went forward, voluntarily, at the close of the service, to give the evangelist the hand of hearty welcome to the city, and to pledge their support in his work.

While Dr. Pickard is a man of learning, a writer of note, a profound theologian and an orator of spendid platform gifts, his language in preaching is simple, and his Bible expositions are luminous, interesting and uplifting. His manner is child-like in its sincerity and earnestness. Men who think and act for themselves will joy and be profited by Dr. Pickard's preaching.

A large congregation gathered last night at the second service, and the meeting begins under the most auspicius circumstances, as Dr. Pickard made a most favorable impression upon his congregation, among whom were many men who are not accustomed to attend revival meetings.

The sermon last night was an exposition of the Parable of the Talents. Dr. Pickard has wonderful power in making scripture clear and impressive. The intellect is quickened, and the heart is stirred under his preaching.

The afternoon's sermon will be expositions of scripture suitable to Bible students, and those inquiring the way of life. At night the effort will be to interest those who, heretofore have not been practically interested in the matter of bcoming followers of Christ.

While the meetings are held in the Baptist church, the pastor and members, invite the ministers and members of other churches to take part in all the services.

New River Oysters on the Market.

The first open New River Oysters were placed on the local market yesterday by Mr. I. W. Hobbs, of Folkston, Onslow county. For some time New River oysters on the half shell have been in evidence in this section, but the first fine opened lot yesterday sold very readily. Mr. Hobbs stated that the season's prospect for a big supply is very encouraging, and that the oysters gathered lately are a better grade than at the opening of the season last year.

Funeral of Mrs. M. A. Price.

The funeral of Mrs. Matilda A. Price, whose death occurred Monday night after a lingering illness, attended by a large concourse of sympathizing friends was held from St. Thomas' Catholic Church, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Father Hannon, assisted by Rev. Father Price. The remains were interred in Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. B. F. Applewhite, T. E. Applewhite, W. P. Applewhite, James J. Darby, Joseph A. Price and A. L. Price.

FAMOUS VISITOR IS NOW IN CITY

Accompanied by His Secretary, Lecturer and Large Staff of Representatives.

TO REMAIN INDEFINITELY

Col Frank A. Dillingham, Will Greet People of Wilmington Tonight at Entertainment at Corner of Fourth and Castle Streets.

An event that has long been anticipated by the people of Wilmington will take place here tonight when Col. Frank A. Dillingham, the famous public benefactor and friend of distressed humanity, will make his first public appearance in this section of the State. Colonel Dillingham promised sometime ago to pay this city a visit and is now here for the purpose of fulfilling that promise. His representatives have already perfected arrangements for a grand free entertainment, consisting of a nrst class minstrel performance and band concert, to begin this evening at the corner of Fourth and Castle streets.

Without a single exception the name of Dillingham is today the most popular of any in this State, and deserve edly so, as the big hearted efforts of this remarkable man to aid his fellow beings; to win and hold the friendship of every man with whom he comes in contact, have caused his name and fame to travel from mouth to mouth, and over the entire State, in such a manner that his deeds of kindness have become known in every city, town and hamlet within the State. Although Col. Dillingham makes his first appearance here tonight he is by no means a stranger to the people of Wilmington ,as the press of this and other cities in this vicinity have devoted column after column in chronicling his great deeds and achievements.

There is no mystery about Frank A. Dillingham; his avowed object in life is to meet men and make them his friends, to be happy and make others happy. He is accompanied by his secretary, Mr. Cromwell G. Byron, the chief of his lecture bureau, Mr. Alva A. Mills, and a large staff of representatives and entertainers. When seen at his hotel today the famous traveler and friend of humanity beamed with that spirit of fellowship which seems to characterize every moment of his existence and, although busily engaged in greeting old friends and making new ones, he readily consented to an interview. Col. Dillingham was arrayed in a splendor of diamonds of unequaled magnificence and being a man of strong individuality, his personal appearance is of such a nature as to attract and hold the interest of all with whom he comes in contact. His conversation and demeanor is marked by a degree of extreme candor and courtesy and during the course of his remarks the distinguished visitor said:

"While I have been royally received in Charlotte and other cities of this State I have long looked forward with pleasure to visiting this city, and in view of the cordial reception that has so far been accorded me I am confident that I will have no cause for disappointment in my anticipations of a pleasant stay in Wilmington. I expect to remain here indefinitely and want to meet every man in Wilmington, especially those who feel that I can be of any assistance to them, before I leave. It is my intention to make the name of Dillingham known in every home in this section of the State and while doing so I shall make this city my headquarters."

The announcement that Col. Dillingham will conduct his operations from Wilmington while in this part of the State will be received with gratification by those who are familiar with his methods. It means that this man of big ideas and original methods will spend a princely sum here through various channels to introduce himself to the public. Wherever Col. Dillingham appears his free open air concerts and minstrel performances invariably become the leading amusement feature of the city, and a goodly portion of Wilmington's population will no doubt be at the opening performance this evening at the corner of Fourth and Castle streets.

KERN ASSAILS ROOSEVELT

Criticises Him For Insisting Upon Naming His Successor.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 29.—"The people of America will in my judgment demand the right to choose their servants from official influence and effort of a president who goes almost to the point of violence in insisting that he be allowed to name his own successor."

John W. Kern, the Vice Presidential candidate before a crowd that filled the Academy of Music here, this assailed President Roosevelt tonight for his participation in the National campaign. He compared the President's activity with that shown by President Arthur in 1882 to bring about the American Chief Justice Folger for Governor of New York which activity he declared was rebuked by the voters of that State in a most decisive manner.

The President, he said from being a pioneer in the civil service movement, has deteriorate into one of the most flagrant violators of its principles. Leaving Chicago at noon today accompanied by E. O. Wood NaNtional committeeman from Michigan, Mr. Bryan's team mate reached Kalamazoo, Mich., today.

OPPOSE DEPOSIT GUARANTEE.

North Carolinian Offered Resolution Adopted By Bankers.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Denver, Colo., Sept. 29.—The Trust Company section of the American Bankers' Association went on record this afternoon in opposition to the bank deposit guarantee proposition making the third subsidiary association of the American Bankers to declare itself thus. A motion to vote on postal savings banks was defeated. All the speeches made were against the postal savings banks plan.

The resolution against the guarantee of bank deposits was offered by F. H. Fries, of Winston-Salem, N. C., who acted for the legislative committee. The introduction of the resolution precipitated a debate, led by Mr. Breckenridge Jones, of St. Louis, in the negative, as to whether the section had a constitutional right to consider any proposition not of exclusive interest to trust companies. The resolution was carried 74 to 5.

In the election of officials, A. A. Jackson, of Philadelphia was chosen president, F. H. Fries was elected one of the new members of the executive committee.

Among a dozen called on for remarks was Clark Williams, of New York, formerly president of the Trust Company section. He said that twenty per cent. of the banking power of the United States was in New York; that it was unanimously against the guarantee of bank deposits.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Raleigh, Sept. 27.—Senator Simmons has written State Chairman Eller saying he would be ready to begin his campaign work October 8th, to make three to four speech each week. He will probably begin in the piedmont and western counties. He will be in Jones county this week. Locke Craig will begin his regular tour of speech-making October 12th and will continue until election day.

—Charlotte Observer: Mayor T. S. Franklin yesterday received notification from Mayor George Hibbard, of Boston, to the effect that he would be present at the coming convention of the mayors and city officials of North Carolina. Mayor Hibbard is a delightful speaker, Mayor Franklin having heard him during a recent visit to Boston. He will undoubtedly be a drawing card to the convention.

—Winston Journal: State chairman A. H. Eller came in from Raleigh on the late train last night. Approached by a Journal man, he said the progress of the campaign in both State and nation looked good to him. He received telegrams just as he was leaving headquarters announcing that speeches would be made in the State by several national characters, including Williams, Clayton and Bacon.

—Winston Sentinel: One of the most murderous assaults ever committed in this city was made yesterday morning when Daisy Patterson, colored, assaulted Polly Headen, also colored, with a knife or razor, and cut several severe gashes in her body. The policemen say that Polly is cut worse than any one they ever saw. There is one gash that begins in the fleshy part of the body under the left shoulder blade and extends all around her body to a point almost over her heart. There were also several minor gashes.

—King's Mountain, Sept. 27.—Mr. W. L. Ormand, of Bessemer City, who has just erected a cotton gin to be operated by electric power, yesterday received a letter signed "Night Riders" warning him that if he started his gin in operation while cotton was at its present price his plant would go up in smoke. The letter intimated that he would not only lose his gin but also his home. Mr. Ormand is putting in the most improved machinery and his gin was just about to begin operation. All the gin men hereabouts are on the anxious seat.

—New Bern Journal: If there is any candidate for the Carnegie Hero Medal in the city, one who saves a life or two lives at the peril of his own it is Capt. Hinnant. Last night the passengers were coming off from the Norfolk train and the West bound train was coming on the main track. Two ladies were standing on the narrow platform but in such a position that the oncoming train would have run them down. The Captain standing on the opposite side of the track seeing their danger stepped in front of the engine and pushed them aside. It was an exceedingly narrow escape for all of them.

—Goldsboro, N. C., Sept. 28.—Senator B. F. Aycock, Democratic candidate for Corporation Commissioner, today brought suit in Wayne Superior Court against J. F. Click, editor of the Times Mercury, of Hickory, N. C., for libel, laying the damages at $5,000. The action grows out of an editorial published in the Hickory paper of September 23rd, in which it is charged that four years ago Senator Aycock went to Hickory to speak and that he was so drunk his friends had to take him down, and in which it is asked if Senator Aycock rides on a railroad pass. The complaint filed here today denounces this statement and insinuation as maliciously false and defamatory.

—Salisbury, Sept. 27.—Last night while State Senator Whitehead Klutz and Register of Deeds E. H. Miller were on their way to Owen's school house to fill a political appointment their team was run into two miles from this city, on the China Grove road, by an automobile and the buggy partially wrecked. The driver of the auto did not even hesitate to enquire as to the extent of the damage done. Messrs. Miller and Kluttz with some little difficulty proceeded on to the school house and there learned that the same reckless fellow had ran into a countryman's wagon before meeting Messrs. Kluttz and Miller. He paid no attention to the farmer but sped on in haste and the countryman took a shot at the fleeing autoist but missed him.

—Clinton, N. C., Sept. 27—Last night a man giving his name as Mercer, went to the home of Mr. J. J. Mathis, a white farmer near Clinton. While he was out with a surveying party on his farm, the man went into the house, frightened the ladies, overturned tables and other furniture and, after rumaging the house to his contentment, went to the stable, caught and harnessed Mr. Mathis' horse and drove him to Clinton so rapidly that he was nearly killed. A policeman arrested him for cruelty to animals when he got to Clinton, and when he learned the true state of affairs, he decided that the lockup was too good for him, and he is now safely reposing in jail awaiting his preliminary trial before the mayor. This morning early, a man looking somewhat like an Italian in skin, though a white man named Jones, who hails from South Carolina, came to Mr. Josh Johnson, a white farmer of Parkersburg, and hired him to bring him to Clinton. When they got in the outskirts of town Jones knocked Johnson in the head with a railroad spike and took leg bail. Johnson is not seriously hurt, though he has a severe flesh wound. Jones was caught at Roseboro, under the name of Greene, by the use of bloodhounds.

THE ELECTRIC CRATER.

How the Arc Light Is Produced Between the Electrodes.

Everybody knows that an arc light is formed by causing an electric current to pass between the points of two carbon rods. One of these is called the positive and the other the negative electrode, and the current passes from the former to the latter. Particles of carbon are carried on from the positive electrode until its end becomes cup shaped.

To the little cup thus formed the name of crater is applied, and from this crater four-fifths of the light is emitted. The negative electrode does not become so hot as the other. Between the two a little cloud of vaporized carbon is formed, rising from the crater, and this vapor gives forth a golden yellow light. But it is overpowered by the light of the crater itself, which has a violet tinge due to the incandescence of solid particles of carbon. The arc of light extended from one electrode to the other also has an axis of violet color which is its most brilliant part. The fact that most of the luminosity comes from the crater explains the reason why the light does not appear equal in all directions. It is brightest from that point of view which shows the largest portion of the crater.

An interesting effect is often noticed when flies or other insects flutter about an arc light. Their shadows cast on a neighboring wall appear gigantic. The reason is that the light of the crater is concentrated in a point smaller than the bodies of the insects, and the boundaries of the shadows consequently widen with increase of distance.—St. Louis Republic.

THE WARRANT CAME.

So They Took the Woman From Her Washtub to the Gallows.

The hanging of a woman, which in these days calls forth public protests, was apparently a matter of indifference to our grandfathers and grandmothers. It was in the nineteenth century that a woman found guilty of some trifling offense was sentenced to death. By chance the warrant for her execution was not sent to the high sheriff, and she remained in prison for about three years, acting as a jail washerwoman and occasionally, as a favor in acknowledgment of her good behavior, going out, as was then the custom, as washerwoman to private houses. But a clerk looking through the home office records found the warrant that had never been dispatched, and it was thereupon promptly forwarded to the sheriff for due process.

The woman was found by the turnkey at the washtub in a house in the town—Aylesbury. "Well, missus," said he, "you are to be hanged. The warrant has come at last, and we must carry the sentence out tomorrow morning at the latest." "Werry well, then," the wretched woman submissively replied, "I suppose I must go," and, having washed the soapsuds off her arms, departed with the official. She was duly hanged the next morning, from all which it would seem that barely a century separates us from a condition of primitive barbarism.—London Chronicle.

Not Good Twice.

Lincoln's stories grew better and better as he grew older. One of the best was told to a visitor who congratulated him on the almost certain purpose on the part of the people to reelect him for another term of four years. Mr. Lincoln replied that he had been told this frequently before and that when it was first mentioned to him he was reminded of a farmer in Illinois who determined to try his own hand at blasting. After successfully boring and filling in with powder he failed in his effort to make the powder go off, and after discussing the cause with a looker on and failing to detect anything wrong in the powder the farmer suddenly came to the conclusion that it would not go off because it had been shot before.

A Point of View.

The new steamer City of —— was laid up for repairs, and one of the rickety old timers of the line was sailing in her place. A passenger who was somewhat irritated by the fact remarked to another, an Irishman, by the way, "The City of —— always gets in at 2 in the morning, and this old tub never gets in before 6."

The Irishman thought for a moment and replied: "It's all right. The distance is just the same, and we get a longer sail for our money."—New York Press.

Needed a Cloudburst.

Staying at an inn in Scotland, a shooting party found their sport much interfered with by rain. Still, wet or fine, the old fashioned barometer that hung in the hall persistently pointed to "set fair." At length one of the party drew the landlord's attention to the glass, saying, "Don't you think, now, Dugald, there's something the matter with your glass?" "No, sir," replied Dugald, with dignity, "she's a gude glass and a powerful glass, but she's no' moved wi' trifles."

Such Is Fame.

A learned correspondent writes: "I was examining a witness, an elderly woman, the other day. On my inquiring her name she said it was Mrs. Bardell and that she came from Gravesend. I asked, 'Did you know Charles Dickens?' She replied, 'Do you mean the undertaker?' Such is fame."—London News.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it.

Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Between Supper and Breakfast.

Many persons, says a well known doctor, though not actually sick, keep below par in strength and general tone, and he is of the opinion that fasting during the long interval between supper and breakfast, and especially the complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep, adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness we so often meet. It is logical to believe that the supply of nourishment should be somewhat continuous, especially in those who are below par, if we would counteract their emaciation and lower degree of vitality, and as bodily exercise is suspended during sleep, with wear and tear correspondingly diminished, while digestion, assimilation and nutritive activity continue as usual, the food furnished during this period adds more than is destroyed, and increased weight and improved general vigor are the results.—London Globe.

A Theater Dialogue.

The curtain had fallen on the first act at a Broadway theater when a man, correctly attired and apparently of refinement, leaned toward a woman occupying a seat directly in front of him—a woman who had naturally removed her hat, but whose hair was arranged in the extreme of fashion, aided by "boughten" puffs.

"I beg your pardon, madam," said the man in an audible whisper, "but if you would remove your hair and substitute your hat I believe I would be able to see something more of the stage."

The woman didn't scream. She didn't even faint. She merely turned around and replied:

"Jack, if you weren't my brother I'd slap your face."—New York Globe.

Her Little Confidence Game.

"We're playing railroad train," she said as she pulled her father's paper away, "and I'm the conductor. Tickets, please."

He took a card from his pocket and handed it to her. She looked at it intently for a minute and then handed it back. "That was issued yesterday," she said, "and isn't good today. You'll have to pay cash or get off the train."

He gave her a dime. He knew he had been "worked," but what else could he do?

Pitched It.

A boy was asked what Moses did with the tabernacle in the wilderness when the people murmured.

He replied, "He chucked it away."

When asked to explain he read the seventh verse of the thirty-third chapter of Exodus, "And Moses took the tabernacle and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp."—Liverpool Mercury.

Night Rates For a Horse.

"Hicks, the hotel man, has a new scheme. He serves Welsh rabbit free to his guests evenings."

"What's his idea?"

"Well, they have nightmare, and then he charges them for the use of one horse."—Boston Transcript.

Conceit is that attitude of the mind which convinces a man that if he had only lived soon enough he would have been the author of the Bible.—Detroit Free Press.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 29.—The cotton market was irregular today, an early advance being followed by a set back in the late trading with the close steady at a net decline of 5 to 9 points. Sales were estimated at 125,000 bales.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 2 points under liquidation, but the market quickly sold 4 to 5 points higher on covering and bull support which seemed to be based on relatively steady English cables, talk of low temperatures in the south and continued apprehension regarding the further course of the West Indian storm which was reported off the east coast of Cuba. Otherwise, however, climatic conditions appeared to be more favorable during the afternoon the market became quite easy on rumors that prominent longs were trying to sell out before the bureau report and that the report of the National Ginners Association indicated a bearish showing by the census figures next Friday. The close was a point or two up from the lowest on active months.

Receipts at the ports today were 84,824 bales against 72,794 bales last week and 46,467 last year. For the week 335,000 ables against 286,179 last week and 220,276 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans were 13,706 bales against 3,328 last year and at Houston 28,131 bales against 15,044 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet 10 points decline; middling uplands 9.30; middling gulf 9.55; sales 214 bales.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 29.—The drygoods market continue generally small but they are coming forward regularly and often so that business as a whole is counted fair. The disposition to hold back advance business is still noted but this is offset by the large spot business passing in some important houses. Exports during September were better in the cotton goods division. Cotton yarns remain steady with a fair call at low prices. Linings are fairly active but small purchasers are the rule. Broadcloths in dress goods are in active demand with agents and jobbers.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 29.—The tendency of prices to settled to a dead level was still further manifest in the stock market today. The professionals confined themselves to what they call in and out operations. Trading became exceedingly desultory as the swing of prices diminished and offered lessening attraction for those in and out dealings. The stagnant conditions convinced the doubtful ones that the wealthy capitalists, who were credited with responsibility for the activity of the summer dealings, were abstaining from dealing in stocks for the present. Some repressive influence on the speculation was ascribed to the preparations for the quarterly disbursements on the first of October which are estimated to require about $150,000,000. Money rates were a shade firmer on this account but no actual pressure on the stock market resulted. The surplus reserve of the banks remains of such really unwieldly proportions as to leave no present room for actual money market disturbance. Net price changes as shown at the end of the day are almost negligible. Bonds are heavy. Total sales par value were $2,038,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 418,700 shares.

Annoying the Passengers.

"There used to be in one of the southern states," said a military man, "a railroad that was notorious for its slowness. This line was so slow that the people took to lampooning it in the press. Thus one Memorial day a planter wrote to the Rapier, the leading paper of his district:

"The Editor of the Rapier:

"Dear Sir—Is there no way to put a stop to begging along the line of the railroad? For instance, yesterday an aged veteran with a wooden leg kept pace with the afternoon express all the way from Paint Rock to Nola Chucky and annoyed the passengers exceedingly, going from one open window to another with his importunate solicitations.

Half of the Pleasure.

The youngest girl of a Baltimore family was recently much distressed at dessert to discover that there was ice cream for dinner.

"Oh, papa," exclaimed the youngster reproachfully, "why didn't they tell me this morning that we were going to have ice cream?"

"What difference would that have made?"

"Lots!" sighed the child. "I could have expected it all day."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Wanted a Pusher.

"What did the new neighbors come to borrow now?"

"They wanted the lawn mower."

"Is that all?"

"That was all they spoke about, but I think from the way they stood around they would like to have borrowed my husband to run it."—Nashville American.

"Yes," replied the bright girl, "I believe he has no scruples in that direction."—Philadelphia Press.

TARIFF REVISION TAFT'S KEYNOTE

Principal Feature of His Ten Speeches in South Dakota Yesterday.

BIG CROWDS HEAR HIM

Republican Candidate's Campaign Tour Through Four States Ends. Spent Last Night at Lincoln, Neb.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 29.—Tariff revision, mostly downward, and upward notably on pottery was the keynote of Candidate Taft's ten speeches today. In none of them did he forget to "go after" his Nebraskan opponent.

The Ohioan's trip through Dakota terminated here tonight with an address with a tremendous audience from the four states of South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota. The meeting was held in the immense train shed of the Union passenger station and was rivalled in the day's trip from Aberdeen only by the two meetings held at Mitchell, S. D.

Besides Mitchell and Sioux City, the largest crowds of the day were at Aberdeen and Yankton, the latter the home of Senator Gamble. The special was also cheered by large audiences at Mellette, Redfield, Wolsey, Tripp, Parkston, Leslerville, Scottland and Vermillion.

"Mr. Bryan says that we may not expect anything from the Republican party because it is governed by the protected interests and that they contribute to the campaign fund," said Mr. Taft to his audiences, "if they do, I am glad to advise you that the campaign fund this year is not flattering and that no campaign has been carried on more economically than this campaign. Secondly, I want to call your attention to the fact that when the Republican party rises to bring about a trusted promise, it enforces that promise against any corporation as it has done in the administration of Theodore Roosevelt, it will be my pleasure and my duty to insist so far as the executive head of the Nation and the Republican party can gather such influence, to bring about an honest and thorough revision of the tariff on the one hand, protecting the industries by the method of protection explained, and on the other hand seeing that the measure is not too greatly in the interest of the consumers."

Mr. Taft slept in his private car on a quiet siding at South Sioux City tonight. With nine or ten speeches in Nebraska, tomorrow he will reach Lincoln, the home of Bryan, in the evening and will spend the night there.

SHIPPING CASE MADE CLEAR

Commerce Commission Has Jurisdiction Over Foreign Commerce

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Sept. 29.—That the Inter-State Commerce Commission has ample jurisdiction over the foreign commerce of the United States while moving between Seaboard and interior points is set forth in a letter written by Inter-State Commerce Commissioner Lane at the Tocoma Chamber of Commerce of Tacoma, Washn., and made public today.

In his letter Mr. Lane says in part: "Such a general misunderstanding exists as to the nature of the decision in the Cosmopolitan shipping case that it seems worth while to point out just what our ruling was. The Cosmopolitan shipping company operates a line of steamships plying between Philadelphia and different ports of Northern Europe. In its complaint preferred before the commission it alleged that the Hamburg American Packet Company, North German Lloyd Steamship Company, the Wilson lines, and the Scandinavian American line has organized also so-called 'pool' whereby all traffic originating in the United States whether on the Seaboard or in the interior and destined to the North of Europe, was divided among themselves in certain designated proportions. The complainant asked that the 'Baltic pool' be declared illegal because in contravention of the anti-pooling provision of the Inter-State Commerce act.

"But this does not mean that the commission is altogether without authority over the foreign commerce of the United States. The commission has ample jurisdiction over the foreign commerce of the United States while moving between the Seaboard and interior points. It logically and necessarily follows that the rate for the inland movement to or from the Seaboard must be filled and published in order to comply with the express provisions of the law. A contrary holding would deprive the commission of all jurisdiction over foreign commerce. If joint rates only were required to be published, the proportion of each carrier being unknown, the law could easily be set at naught through collision between the railroads and ocean carriers. Rebates and preferences could be granted at will.

"That this ruling is in accord with the law if not questioned. The whole difficulty arises from the reluctance of the railroads to make public the inland proportions of these joint rates. Their earnings of this traffic are so small that they fear the dissatisfaction of domestic shippers and the complaints that would follow."

JUSTICE BREWER SHOWS DISBELIEF

Does Not Fully Agree With Scientists in Address Before Tuberculosis Congress.

ADVOCATES POLICE POWER

For the Protection of Health When Legitimately Exercised—Number of Scientists Speak on Different Themes.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

—Washington, Sept. 29.—That Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, does not fully share the rather gloomy views held by some of the world famed authorities on tuberculosis was reflected in his address today before the International Tuberculosis Congress. Justice Brewer's topic was "Legitimate Exercise of Police for the Protection of Health," and he had been preceded on the programme by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, who declared that five million people now living in the United States are doomed to fill consumptives graves unless something is done to prevent it and that the 138,000 deaths in this country annually from tuberculosis cost in hard cash, over one million dollars a year.

"The police power," said Justice Brewer, "cares for the health, for the life, for the safety, for the good morals of the community. In each of those cases, it is individual who is directly benefitted, and it is only indirectly that the State, as an organized entity, is benefitted by having good, healthy citizens, good moral citizens, and staying the progress of disease.

"Today we are facing questions of a slightly different character. They are a series of cases in which shorter hours of labor are demanded in behalf of the employe. Now, whenever the employment is one which is attended with special risks the State may come and say to the employer: 'You shall not let that man work above a certain reasonable length of time.' But if the occupation is not freighted with danger, it is something beyond the power of the legislature to disturb. If a man thinks working twelve hours is better for him and will inure to his happiness to a greater extent than the avocation he is pursuing and is attended with no risks, when he has the right to pursue that avocation and the employer has the right to make a contract with him for that length of time."

Dr. Ladsilaus Detre, of Budapest, discoverer of a new method of diagnosis that will disclose the type, degree and stage of infection, through the inoculation of the patients arm with human and bovine tubercule bacilli, delivered a notable address with blackboard illustrations.

"The ransom of a great city," was the theme of Dr. Talcott Williams, of Philadelphia, who contended that a city should be held as responsible for suppressing preventable disease as for keeping its roads in repair. The annual death rate from tuberculosis in Philadelphia, he said, is about 3,000.

Tonight at Assembly Hall, Dr. Arthur Newsholme, of London, delivered a lecture on "The causes of the past decline of tuberculosis and the light thrown by history on preventive measures for the immediate future."

HEARST'S CHARGES STOLEN LETTERS

A New Phase of The Discussion of The Standard Oil Correspondence.

STATEMENT BY ARCHBOLD

The Letters Stolen From Office by Trusted Employe and Sold to Hearst's Paper—Ex-Senator McLaurin.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 29.—A new phase of the discussion of the so-called "Standard Oil correspondence" made public recently by William R. Hearst, was entered upon late today when John D. Archibold, vice president of the Standard Oil Company made a statement to the Associated Press setting forth details of the alleged theft of correspondence from his files.

Former United States Senator John L. McLaurin, of South Carolina, also entered the field with a signed statement declaring his attitude in the matter of the correspondence between himself and Mr. Archibold.

Mr. Archibold said: "In response to many inquiries as to the theft of letters from my files, the following may be made known:

Over three years ago a report reached me that certain of my letters had been offered for sale to newspapers of this city, ostenisbly stolen letters. Examinations showed that some letters were missing and that they could only have been taken by some one not only familiar with the office details, but highly trusted. The party on whom suspicion fell stoutly denied all guilt. A little later, however, a man who represented himself as acting between the thief and those to whom the letters had been sold proposed to return some of the letters for a consideration. His story was that the idea of the theft had been conceived by his brother who at one time been in the company's employ and that this brother had induced the employee already suspected to accomplish the theft. According to the bo-between's story, he had disposed of the letters, or some of them, to two men who purchased them on behalf of Mr. Hearst's newspaper, the Journal. Not only had stolen letters been thus traded for, but the thief was induced to carry off one or more letter copying books, many of whose pages he claims were photographed, other pages being removed altogether. The books in question were, the go-between said, returned after forty-eight hours. It is impossible to say how many were stolen and sold in this way. The thieves worked at their leisure. It is not thought necessary to say more at present or to mention names. Corroboration of the go-between's story of three years ago lay in his return of some of the correspondence at the time. The production of stolen letters by Mr. Hearst is further corroberation now. Obviously, among such a coterie, authenticity of their output is not to be lightly accepted. The opportunities for falsification, suppressing of context and distortions of passages are many."

Mr. McLaurin, who has just reached New York, gave out a signed statement as follows:

"An effort has been made to create a political sensation by the publication of certain correspondence between Mr. John D. Archibold, vice president of the Standard Oil Company, and myself. For that correspondence I have no apologies to make. At the time the letters were written I had the honor to enjoy and am proud still to possess, the friendship of Mr. Archbold, for whom I have the highest regard. When these letters were written I was engaged in a bitter struggle in which I was involved, not only my own political future, but the economic and political principles for which I stood and which, stated briefly, meant the emancipation of the South from the ignorant prejudice of Bourbonism and the 'bloody shirt' into the freedom of an enlightened self interest and the progress of an intelligent industrialism.

In the support of these principles and the hope of this progress I saw then no impropriety in enlisting if practicable, the assistance of the most progressively administered, and the most intelligently officered corporation that human intelligence has yet produced. Nor has the enormous body of statutory crime since created or the hypocritical affectation of morality assumed by some of our Legislatures my conscience of expediency, as seems to have been the case with some of my former colleagues and associates.

"The constituencies that they represent do not hesitate to take Mr. Carnegie's trust-produced and tariff protected money for their churches and libraries, or to accept Mr. Rockefeller's largess for the education of the negro whom they have disfranchised.

"If political campaigns are to be run without money and political progress is to be achieved without financial expenditure, it is high time that both parties should be apprised of the arrival of that Utopian era, but until that policy has arrived I can see no reason why, when battling for what I conceived to be the right, I should refuse to seek or decline to accept the support, whether financial or personal, of which I stood in need.

"I believe that the South, and especially the State of South Carolina, is today throttled in its natural progress and its intelligent exercise of the right of self government by an oligarchy which keeps alive the prejudices of a past generation through the perpetration of ignorances and the fertilization of corruption, and I shall welcome the day when the educational propaganda, which can only be spread by the use of money whether it is Standard Oil money or railroad money, or any other money save that derived from the governmental sale of whiskey, will enable the people to see more clearly their own best interests and cast out those leaders whose hypocritical morality and ill disguised selfishness is responsible for the fact that in the South illiteracy is greater and the increase of population and wealth slower than in any other great section of the union.

"It is the fashion of present day political hypocrisy to decry the corporation, abhor the trust and to pretend in public life to prescribe the influence of wealth; but as in this country and in this age wealth is and must be the reward of intelligence, I am now willing to be considered amongst those cowardly enough to deny it the influence which intelligence has always exercised under every form of government thus far devised. Of a government of ignorance I have had enough in my native State. I have worked for and shall continue to work for a government of intelligence.

"JOHN LOWNDES McLAURIN."

Senator McLaurin leaves tomorrow for South Carolina.
